

Python is a programming language.

It is widely used for web development, AI, and data science.

FastAPI is a framework used to build APIs in Python.